

PROMOTING LOCAL LABOUR HISTORY PROJECT

Are you interested in promoting local labour history?

Would you like to write an article for publication?

This project is for you!

Provincial OSSTF has funds available for time release to assist members in researching and writing stories about local labour history, and documenting gains made through labour struggles. These stories should serve to educate both the public and our own membership about the real history of unions in our communities – why they exist, how they’ve evolved, what they’ve contributed and why they matter now more than ever. The OSSTF Toronto Communications Committee will review proposals that focus on the history of OSSTF Toronto and select the ones that will be forwarded to Provincial Office for approval.

To enter, submit a short (300 words) proposal outlining the following:

- Aspect of OSSTF Toronto history that will be addressed
- Events/ period of time that will be addressed
- Sources the author hopes to access for research
- Potential routes/ avenues for publication of the story

Proposals should be submitted via email as a separate attachment to Michelle Teixeira mteixeira@osstfd12.com no later than 4pm December 15 2014.

Please note: Selected proposals will still need to be submitted to Provincial Office for approval of the funding. Approval at the District level does not guarantee funding from OSSTF.
